

Sky-Watch A/S and Little Smart Things ApS merges

Drone manufacturers Sky-Watch A/S and Little Smart Things merges. All drone activity will continue under the name of Sky-Watch and we therefore strive to strengthen our position within the industry as well as within the segments Police, Fire Departments and humanitarian organizations.

The merge is a natural result of long-term cooperation, as both companies increasingly are exploring the synergies within technology and sale.

In November 2015, Little Smart Things was declared bankrupt and so began the hard work of reestablishing the company's activities. Naturally, in this process Sky-Watch had interest in acquiring and continuing all activities.

Quotes:

"Sky-Watch and Little Smart Things has been in close cooperation throughout 2015 on a series of projects and the results has been good. The drone industry is still very new and there is a need for a strong organization, if we are to be a strong competitor on the global marked. With this merge, we will have a strong and competent Danish company with a broad portfolio of high quality products. At Sky-Watch we are very happy to welcome the former "Little Smart Things"-team" – Henrik B. Bendixen, CEO at Sky-Watch.

"Sky-Watch has more or less been a sister company from the beginning and we have been cooperating increasingly. I am very relieved that we with this merge can continue our work and at the same time retain employees and activities on Bornholm. The Danish drone industry now have one company with the power for competing internationally. It is a great and very happy day for both companies and it is definitely the next natural step for Little Smart Things" – Esben Nielsen, founder of Little Smart Things.
